New York. September 20.—Greater sciivity, breadth and strength attended to-day's operations on the Stock Exchange than any session in several months. The business of the first two hours was on a scale of the oid-time "million share" days, but the movement lost some of its force in the afternoon on beavy profit taking and extensive short covering.

Taking the day's best prices as a basis, the average level was almost the highest of the year. In fact, two speculative favorites—United States Steel and Amalgamated Copper—recorded their best quotations since 1911. Steel resumed its former leadership in point of activity, being heavily bought in round loss of 2,000, 2,000 and 4,000 shares. The demand came from some of the better known commission houses. the better known commission houses, eading rivaled steel with a rise of ree points. Amalgamated was the xt most active issue, so-called Stand-d Oil brokers being the principal

Aside from Reading and Lehigh Val-Aside from Reading and Lenigh Val-ley, the railroad group did not partic-ipate to any marked degree in the day's movement, although Harriman and Hill stocks were up one to one and a half points, with lesser gains in Rock Island, St. Paul and New York Central.

Bonds were firm, but the market less broad than in stocks. Total sales, par value, were $2,245,000. United States government bonds were unchanged on Dum's Trade Review.

New York, N. Y. September 20.—R. G. Dun & Company's Review of Trade to-morrow will say:
All the developments of the week confirm and strengthen the improvement in business activity.
Each week brings a higher price level in iron and steel, and the resumption of several merchant fursing it is a substantial advances noted in some districts. Premiums paid for prompt shipment indicate that consumens are urgent need of material and new business is pretty evenly distributed, with especial activity in steel bars. Plates and shapes.

Dry goods houses report a steady volume of duplicate business, buyers displaying confidence, but confining their operations to frequent purchases of small parcels.

Fall distribution of cotton goods is much better than last year, and indications are that current values will be maintained for a considerable period. Wide print cloths are firmer and narrow cloths steady, while a better demand is noted for fine and fancy cottons. Drills, sheetings and ducks are very strong, and some export orders are said to be pending in the latter. Conditions in the woolen and worsted markets and at the mills are exceptionally satisfactory, the demand for men's wear woolens such that difficulty in meeting it is requently found. Trade in silks is steadily improving. The yarn markets are strong, and reflect a steadily broadening trade in miscellaneous goods.

Trading from the little buying has goods.

Trading in footwear, shows further improvement. While little buying has yet been done for spring, many supplementary orders for fall and winter goods have been received.
